

Information Sheet for Hospital Internship in Rotenburg, Germany

Marian University, in partnership with the Agaplesion Diakonie Hospital in Rotenburg (Wümme), Germany is pleased to offer internship opportunities, shadowing physicians at the Agaplesion Clinic. Agaplesion Diakonie Hospital is a faith-based hospital and the teaching hospital of the University of Hamburg's Medical School in nearby Hamburg. The hospital, which has twenty-three specialized clinics and over 800 beds, is ranked as offering the highest level of care in Germany.

Program cost: $1,475 (incl. tuition, on-site/pre-departure orientation, housing, insurance) paid to Marian.

Students who have a demonstrated financial need (according to FAFSA) may apply for the Need-based Marian University Study Abroad Travel Grant ($750-)

Additional costs: flight: $1,200; Local transportation: $200; Food: $600

Marian students have the opportunity to work with Dr. Michael Feldmann, who has been the chief vascular surgeon and head of the Clinic for Vascular and Endovascular Surgery at the Agaplesion Diakonie Hospital since 2010. Dr. Feldmann is also responsible for training medical students and will oversee the students' academic experience. Shadowing experiences are available in Vascular/Endovascular Surgery, Radiology and in other areas (incl. Hospital Administration), according to interest.

